FUTURE FOREST INITIATIVE

Why should you support us?

The FUTURE FOREST INITIATIVE establishes Europe's first sustainable innovation hub, located in the Harz mountains in the middle of Germany.

Our initiative supports innovators that aim to develop sustainable solutions for the forest of the future. We are building an innovation network of inspiring startups, forest owners, scientists, entrepreneurs and investors that apply key technologies from the fields of digitization and biotechnology. By matching the specific needs and offers of our target groups, we successfully connect innovators with land managers, then support them in the development of new solutions and the acquisition of financial support. The tools that arise from these cooperations allow us to establish innovative value-chains for forest owners that complement wood production, either by focusing on the monetarization of ecosystem services or by providing biomass for a climate positive circular economy.

The heart of our initiative is our FUTURE FOREST FORUM, which in the two years since its creation has become Germany's most well-known and important event for forest- and greentech innovations.

On September 8 and 9, 2023, the third FUTURE FOREST FORUM will take place in Blankenburg Castle, i.e. Grosses Schloss, Blankenburg (Harz). Here you will connect with more than 300 participants from our target groups via different speed-dating and match-making sessions. You will be inspired by keynotes, interactive workshops and forest excursions during which you experience innovation live and in action.
